All-in-one Platform for Marketing Operations

IntelligenceBank offers one secure, scalable system for project management, brand management, content storage and distribution, creative collaboration, legal and operational review, revision requests, approvals, AI-assisted workflows and more. And it goes without saying that IntelligenceBank works seamlessly with all your team's favorite content creation tools.

Why do customers prefer one platform?

Increased Productivity.

Forget multiple logins, moving content between systems, and multiple processes for the same results. The time savings speak for themselves. Best of all, teams don't suffer from the excess context switching when moving between platforms. Meanwhile, automated workflows guide content through stages from creation to publication, giving teams valuable time to spend on strategic initiatives. AI-assisted tagging and content creation helps team members be more productive.

Improved Brand and Regulatory Governance.

Say goodbye to managing your brand in email, Slack and external online storage solutions. Brand portals ensure your partners and wider team are always using approved images

Fast Content Approvals.

Streamlined processes between marketing and compliance and legal teams mean content gets out the door faster. And automation tools such as disclaimer engines ensure marketing gets it right in the first place.

Marketing Resource Management

IntelligenceBank's Marketing Resource Management (MRM) software streamlines and enhances marketing operations by providing a centralized platform to manage workflows, approvals, asset development, and distribution. With AI-powered tools, it ensures brand compliance, speeds up campaign production, and simplifies legal reviews. Integrations with popular creative applications and comprehensive project management views enable teams to collaborate effectively and maintain brand integrity. Designed for scalability and security, IntelligenceBank is an essential tool for marketing teams aiming to optimize efficiency and ensure regulatory compliance.
